DETAILED ACTION

1. The examiner has considered the IDS filed 05 March 2001. References that were not found in the parent files have been crossed out in pencil on the file copy of the 1449 and will be considered if applicant supplies copies to replace those misplaced from the parent files.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Stock (U.S. 3,825,465).

Stock teaches an expanded sheet material which may be made of plastics or paper or cardboard and which may be filled with tar products and an aggregate such as plaster (col. 2, lines 10-40). The instant invention claims an expanded sheet material with tar and aggregate. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select a combination of tar and plaster from the possible coating and filler materials taught by the reference as options. Variation of the taught sheet materials with these coating and fillers would also have been obvious. Assembly of the expanded material and aggregate in a field application is also taught.
